The figure displays an interpretive transcription of the track "ethnik" by Plastikman and Hawtin. It features a central piano roll with a vertical time axis and a horizontal pitch axis, with vertical dashed lines indicating the pitch of notes over time. Brackets labeled A, B, and C are placed over the piano roll to indicate specific sections.

Surrounding the piano roll are several musical staves and boxes:

- Top right: A box labeled "Sample" containing the text: "These guys from St. Louis...gave me crysahk, like hage crystals...that they ...they diliped somehow. They could make like a thousand sheets."
- Below Sample: A staff for "Bass approximates:" with a bass clef and a 3-measure rhythmic pattern.
- Below Bass approximates: A staff for "Flute" with a treble clef and a 3-measure rhythmic pattern.
- Below Flute: A staff for "Bass" with a bass clef and a 3-measure rhythmic pattern.
- Below Bass: A staff for "Click" with a treble clef and a 3-measure rhythmic pattern, including the text "Rev. HH H" and "Comp. HI HH".
- Below Click: A staff for "Congas" with a treble clef and a 3-measure rhythmic pattern.
- Below Congas: A staff for "Triangle" with a treble clef and a 3-measure rhythmic pattern.
- Below Triangle: A staff for "Roland 303" Synth" with a treble clef and a 3-measure rhythmic pattern.
- Below Roland 303 Synth: A staff for "Roland 303" Synth" with a treble clef and a 3-measure rhythmic pattern.
- Below Roland 303 Synth: A staff for "Roland 303" Synth" with a treble clef and a 3-measure rhythmic pattern.
- Below Roland 303 Synth: A staff for "Roland 303" Synth" with a treble clef and a 3-measure rhythmic pattern.

Section A is marked with a bracket over the first part of the piano roll. Section B is marked with a bracket over the second part. Section C is marked with a bracket over the third part.
